

SERVICE RESTRICTIONS TEMPORARILY IN EFFECT

Notice

A message for taxpayers and tax professionals from the Rhode Island Division of Taxation

Illustration by Chris Gash

The Rhode Island Division of Taxation is changing over to a new computer system on Monday, October 26, 2015, through Monday, November 2, 2015. During that time, the Tax Division will remain open for business during normal business hours and will still offer most services. But the following services will be limited or halted temporarily:

- Releasing license blocks
- Releasing registration blocks
- Releasing liens and levies
- Issuing letters of good standing
- Issuing refunds

All services will resume on November 3, 2015.

[ Note: Requests to release estate tax liens will still be processed as usual ~ as will acknowledgements of discharges of liens related to the sale of Rhode Island real estate by nonresidents. ]

